I 90 Eastbound Clark Fork River Bridge

The Montana Department of Transportation (MDT) and Frontier West are rehabilitating the eastbound bridge that carries Interstate 90 (I 90) over the Clark Fork River 5 miles east of Alberton. The project will rehabilitate the bridge by replacing the bridge deck (driving surface), adding new barrier rails and guardrails, and improving drainage.

PLANNED IMPROVEMENTS INCLUDE:

- Full bridge deck replacement.
- New barrier and guardrail.
- Replacement of expansion joints.
- Transverse deck grooving.
- Improved drainage.
- Bridge approach roadway work.
- Minor substructure repair.
- Structure spot cleaning and painting.

WHY IS THE PROJECT NEEDED?

This bridge was originally constructed in 1979 and has gone through several minor rehabilitations. The bridge remains safe to drive on but needs major rehabilitation work. This project will make cost-effective improvements and repairs to the existing structure that will extend its service life for many years.
